A THOUGHTFUL REFERRAL

A partner who stays involved.

We stay in regular touch with case managers and support coordinators after services start, following up on questions, concerns, and changes.

A clear starting point

Share the state, location, requested service, individual goals, and what is already authorized.

Thoughtful follow-through

Talk through staffing, service fit, next steps, and the people to keep involved.

The individual leads

Involve the person and their chosen supporters, with the appropriate permission.

IN PENNSYLVANIA

Proposed unlicensed In-Home and Community Support, guided by the authorized Individual Support Plan and the person's goals.

LET'S TALK ABOUT YOUR NEXT STEP

You don't have to figure it out alone.

We're happy to listen, answer questions, and help you understand the process.

PENNSYLVANIA | COORDINATOR GUIDE

Individual goals. Thoughtful support.

Support for adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities.

At home. In the community.
With the person at the center.

YOUR ILLUSTRATED JOURNEY

Life with KBA

1 Start with a conversation

Bring your questions. Tell us what matters to you, your state, and the support you're exploring.

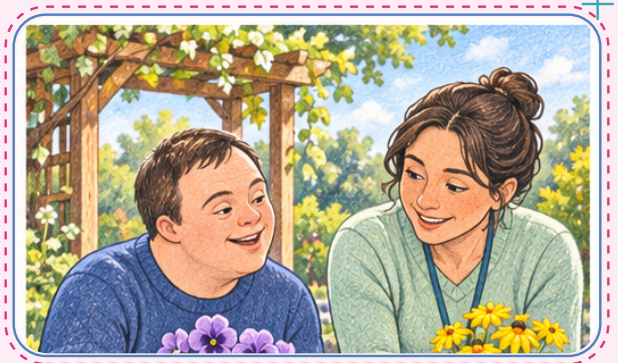
2 Someone you trust

Explore whether a loved one could become a paid caregiver. Program rules, required qualifications, and the individual's choices guide the arrangement.

EVERYDAY SUPPORT. ONGOING CONNECTION.

Meaningful steps.

3 Everyday possibilities



Build routines, practice everyday skills, and enjoy chosen community activities, as described in the authorized plan.

4 Stay connected

We stay in regular touch with case managers and coordinators, follow up on concerns, and discuss changes with the appropriate support team.

CONNECTION FOR FAMILIES, TOO

A place to belong.

5 A circle for families

Family Circle is a planned, optional space for loved ones to connect, share experiences, and feel supported.

After the start, we stay involved.

Ongoing communication matters. We listen, follow up, and keep the individual's preferences central. Plan changes may need coordinator review or updated authorization.

Family Circle is being planned; event details will be shared when available. It is separate from paid services and is not required to receive support.

Illustrative examples, not client stories or guaranteed outcomes. Before services begin, the relevant approvals, authorization, staffing, and caregiver requirements must be confirmed.
